Judgeship Race Holds Spotlight In the County

Close Contest Expected; Both Camps Are Predicting Victory

A bitter — and possibly close — race for the three judgeship posts in Westmoreland County is continuing to hold the spotlight as both Republicans and Democrats go into the final days before Tueday's general election.

Receiving second billing is the race for district attorney, followed by battles for prothonotary, clerk of courts and coroner.

Although political observers think the judgeship contest is one of the closest in years, opposing camps are making confident predictions of victory.

The Democrats are counting on their 51,000 vote registration majority to sweep them into office.

Candidates Listed

The Republicans, on the other hand, are depending on regular GOP voters and "dissatisfied" Democrats to snap the long rule of the Democrats in the courthouse.

Running on the Democrat ticket for common pleas judge are incumbents Edward G. Bauer and David H. Weiss and District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco.

Republican aspirants are Avra N. Pershing Jr., Robert H. Rial and Willis Topper.

Jay W. Kromer, Democratic county chairman, predicted today that "all county Democratic candidates will be elected to office. . . because the working men and women have found real economic security under the Democratic party leadership.

"They have come to know that the Democratic party is the party for the people not just a few."

Kromer cited "complete party unity and labor's vote as two important assets for victory. The Democrats are running as a team while the Republicans have been running as individuals with their own selfish purposes."

Smith McKee Jr., Republican campaign coordinator, said he believes the Republican party has one of the "best lists of candidates in its history."

'Surprising' Race

He said he believes the race will be "interesting, close and surprising."

The Republicans are looking to the "great number of dissatisfied Democrats" to help support the entire GOP ticket, McKee declared.

He said here is a fight among Democrats 'over the leadership of their party. In fact, it is a glaring weakness and one that is certain to be in our favor."

The GOP, McKee predicted, will be stronger in the county's third class cities, particularly New Kensington where there is a close mayoralty race. He said the party is looking for a sizeable vote from Monessen precincts. He would not predict what vote the GOP expects from Monessen except to say it "may be surprising."

All six judge candidates have been working day and night the past several months, visiting practically every nook and cranny in the county.

Political circles in the county are expecting independent Democrats to buck the courthouse slate headed by Bauer, Weiss Sculco and Chief of Detectives A. B. "Buddy" Turner, reputed boss of

Tax Collector Candidate Makes Charity Offer

The Republican candidate for tax collector in Rostraver Twp. today promised to return 25 per cent of his commissions "to churches and non profit groups in the township" if elected next Tuesday.

George Kuma, seeking to defeat Democratic incumbent Jess Donley, made his unusual campaign promise in letters mailed to all township voters.

Kuma said in his letter that he must rely on volunteer supporters.

"If I am to win, I must receive the votes of those persons in both parties who are interested in good government," Kuma wrote. "Supporting my candidacy will be a step toward good, sound and honest government in Rostraver Twp."

The GOP candidate said the promise to return 25 per cent of his commissions was made "as further evidence of my sincere desire to serve the people."

He said his pledge, which has been notarized, was not made as "an attempt to buy your vote: but rather as an indication that my chief reason for seeking the position of tax collector is to provide the people of this township with the type of honest, efficient and capable service to which they are entitled."

Ike Joins with Class Members; Gives Fountain

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UP)—President Eisenhower planned today to join fellow members of the West Point class of 1915 in presenting to the Military Academy a commemorative drinking fountain installed at one end of the parade field.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here Friday for the occasion, flying up from Washington through foggy, rainy weather. They spent the night at the Thayer Hotel on the academy grounds, after visiting with members of the 1915 class and their families here for the presentation of the fountain.

The chief executive and his wife will attend the Army football game with Colgate, then go directly back to Washington late this afternoon.

On their arrival at nearby Stewart Air Force Base Friday, the Eisenhowers were greeted by Lt. Gen. Garrison Davidson, superintendent of the academy, and Maj. Gen. Edward H. Underhill, eastern air defense commander.

Eisenhower stepped jauntily down the ramp from the presidential airplane, the Columbine III, a light rain pelting down upon him. He left the Columbine ahead of Mrs. Eisenhower.

D. C. Duvall Resigns His County Post

Donald C. Duvall, Monessen, has resigned as a member of the Westmoreland County Planning Commission.

Duvall, a top-ranking Pittsburgh Steel Co. official, formally submitted his resignation during a meeting of the County Commissioners in Greensburg.

Duvall said he "enjoyed" working with the nine-man commission, but was resigning because he plans to move to Allegheny County. He is now assistant to the president and vice president - industrial relations of Pittsburgh Steel.

Robert A. Kilgore, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, suggested that a letter of appreciation be sent to Duvall, thanking him for his services. Commissioners Jay W. Kromer and Smith McKee Jr. agreed with Kilgore.

A variety of business was transacted by the County Commissioners during the meeting.

Other Business

A letter was read from the Greensburg Junior Chamber of Commerce asking permission to sell Christmas stockings from a stand in front of the courthouse during the coming holiday season. Since the JCC has previously had permission, it was suggested that the matter be taken up by the group with the superintendent of the courthouse, Philip Doherty in order that there would be no conflicting time with any other organization.

During the meeting, the commissioners authorized the Westmoreland County Promotion and Development Co. to be the agent to receive and disburse funds paid by the state for development of community interests. The group is made up of chambers of commerce and planning associations in third class cities and boroughs and the commissioners may designate such a group to have charge of any such funds appropriated by the state. The county does not contribute to the organization.

Pilot Praised for Landing Airliner at Antarctica Base

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (UP)—Capt. James Thomas said today it was a question of "now or never" when he wrestled his crippled Globemaster in for a safe landing at McMurdo under what veteran polar pilots said were the worst conditions they had ever seen.

Thomas, of Masury, Ohio, landed the giant C-124 transport on the snow and wind swept ice runway after hours of battling against the weather with three engines. The perilous landing on the ice runway ended 13 suspenseful hours for the 12 men aboard and everyone at this U.S. Navy Base in the Antarctic.

His first words to ground crewmen were: "I'm shook."

The globemaster lost its No. 1 engine on the return leg of a 1,600 mile flight to airdrop supplies to the U.S. Byrd station. When it first arrived over McMurdo, it found the base hidden under a 10,000 foot overcast.

Waited For Weather Break

For the next hours, the plane circled overhead waiting for a break in the weather. The weather aloft had cleared before Thomas began his landing attempt but snow and wind still swept across the ground.

Thomas brought the plane in on his third approach, battling a cross wind that ranged from gusts of 50 to 100 miles an hour. Visibility was almost zero because of a 100-foot blanket of snow blowing across the strip.

When the Globemaster came over on its first pass, it was only a blur to the anxious watchers in the control tower 400 feet away. They could just make out the two-story high orange-painted tail.

"The tower kept telling me 'turn right, turn right.'" he said. "I tried to turn but it wouldn't go."

Fight Like Mad

He said he had to "fight like mad" to get the plane down on his third and final attempt "because I didn't have enough gas to go around again."

Just about a year ago, a Navy Neptune plane attempted a landing under similar conditions and cartwheeled off the ice at the end of the runway, killing four and injuring three crewmen. The fire-orange tail of the Neptune has been used as a point of reference for landings.

Crewmen aboard the globemaster included T-Sgt. Donald R. Fetterman, Grandview Heights, Jeannette, Pa., S-Sgt. Charles R. Miller, Wharton, W. Va. and Navy Aerologist Mate 1-C Elmer A. Erdie of Buffalo, N.Y.

Urging Congress To Take Look at Gifts to Officials

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) called today for a "fresh look" by Congress at gifts to government officials.

Keating, senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, proposed that it study "the entire gift question" to see if any new laws are needed or old ones need changing.

The New York congressman said in an interview that there is "apparently a lot of confusion" over what gifts can be accepted. He said Congress should provide some "guidelines" because in some borderline cases conscience is the only guide.

As chairman of an investigating subcommittee in 1953, Keating was sharply critical of gifts to some Truman administration officials. "Just exactly the same standards should apply to Republicans as to Democrats," he said.

"No gift should be accepted which could possibly influence action, either by one in the executive branch or the legislative branch."

60 Deaths Are Probed in County

Sixty deaths were investigated by the Westmoreland County Coroner's office during the month of October, it was announced today by Coroner Stephen Yoney, Monessen.

According to Yoney, three persons lost their lives through traffic accidents, three through suicide, three through burns, two in falls and one by accidental gun shot.

Coronary occlusion remained the big killer, with the deaths of 25 county persons attributed to that cause. Seven deaths in October were due to pneumonia, the report showed.

Missile Probe Opens Monday In Washington

WASHINGTON (UP) — Congressional investigators will question top military manpower officials next week on whether the U.S. missile program has been hurt by any waste of scientific talent.

The House manpower subcommittee, which has been conducting a preliminary inquiry into the matter, was set to open Monday the first public congressional investigation into the U.S. missile effort since Sputnik.

A subcommittee source said the group has received reports that competition for scientific and technical personnel in the entire military research and development field is "running wild."

Some agencies have gobbled up so many scientists and engineers that they have been assigned to ordinary administrative work, the source said, while other agencies have been suffering shortage.

In another development, a special Presidential Committee on Scientists and Engineers released a previously secret report showing that Russia has surpassed the United States in total number of scientists.

The report, prepared by Dr. Herbert Scoville Jr., assistant director of the Central Intelligence Agency, showed that Russia now has 1,500,000 scientists compared with 1,300,000 in the United States.

PRR, NYC In Survey to Form Single System

NEW YORK (UP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central Railroad may be merged into one giant transportation system under plans being studied today by the two carriers.

These two now rank one and two in size among the world's railroads. A merger would unite assets now totaling nearly six billion dollars and produce a new billionaire company ranking 11th in the list.

James M. Symes, president of the Pennsy, and Alfred E. Perlman, president of Central, announced they have initiated studies looking toward a possible union of the two into one consolidated system.

The two already have held preliminary studies and discussions which they said indicate that substantial benefits to all concerned may result from such a merger.

Department Seeking Facts

In Washington, a Justice Department anti-trust official said the railroads were being contacted for information on their proposed merger.

The official, who declined use of his name, said the department would determine whether the government should intervene when the merger petition comes up for Interstate Commerce Commission hearings. The anti-trust division would consider whether the merger proposal has anti-competitive aspects, he said.

The two giant railroads blanket the northeastern section of the nation and duplicate facilities in a dozen states. A merger, it was held, would eliminate these duplicate facilities and result in one big, efficient transportation system able better to compete with other forms of freight and passenger hauling.

The joint statement said that the principal competition for railroads today "is not so much other railroads but other forms of transportation which are subsidized to varying degrees."

List Many Woes

The statement listed what it termed difficulties confronting the roads — delayed rate increases, refusal to permit abandonment of unprofitable and unpatronized trains and facilities, inadequate payment for mail carrying, discriminatory excise taxes, excessive state and local taxes, "unfair assessments" for highway crossings, and other artificial burdens imposed on "the one mass transportation agency that has been demonstrated to be essential both in war and peace."

The two roads together blanket 15 eastern and mid-western states and one of them runs a bit into Canada. They have an aggregate of 20,000 miles of track. Last year they had aggregate revenues of nearly two billion dollars, carried eighty million passengers and hauled 378 million tons of freight. They employed 184,000 workers receiving about a billion dollars in wages.

Police 'Stumble' Onto Three Slots Near California

California Borough police "stumbled" on to three slot machines yesterday afternoon.

Chief Robert C. Elliott and patrolman Matthew Mazick were investigating a burglary and the trail took them out on the Daisytown-California road near Smallwood.

There they saw a 1957 station wagon pulled off the road. Two men were busy in the rear of the vehicle.

Suspicious, the two policemen decided to investigate. In the rear of the station wagon under a tarpaulin were three slot machines, two 10-centers, and a 25-cent machine.

Police said the station wagon belonged to the City Coin Co. of Pittsburgh. The two men with the machines were tentatively identified as Harry Ted Ladzinski, Canonsburg, and Jasek, Canonsburg R. D. 2.

The machines were confiscated. Police said the two men were released because mere possession of the machines does not constitute an offense worth prosecuting.

Crash Driver Is Identified

Robert C. McCleary, 21, of 82 Violet St., Johnstown, visited the state police barracks at Belle Vernon and signed a statement that he was the driver of the car which overturned Oct. 25 on Route 981 and injured himself and a companion, Rudolph Forty, 35, of 426 Third St., Monessen, police said today.

When state police investigated the mishap neither McCleary nor Forty would assume responsibility for driving the completely wrecked car.

McCleary, who received multiple face injuries, signed the statement after being discharged from Charleroi-Monessen Hospital this week, police said.

Campaign Notes—

Loughran Target for Another Blistering Republican Attack

Joseph M. Loughran, the rebel Democrat who rejoined the Westmoreland County party organization recently, was the target of another blistering Republican attack last night.

This time Wayne R. Donahue, GOP nominee for district attorney, did the honors. He asked voters to study recent statements made by Loughran in support of the straight Democratic ticket, then compare them to the speeches Loughran made last May.

"Which Loughran are we to believe," asked Donahue, "the May Loughran or the October Loughran?"

Donahue then read a speech by Loughran as quoted in the May 4 issue of the Greensburg Tribune. At the time Loughran was opposing the Democratic party organization in a bid for a judge nomination. He had just been dismissed as an assistant district attorney bf D.A. L. Alexander Sculco who had received the party's backing in the judge race.

Said Loughran at the time according to Donahue:

"Sculco has engaged in some name-calling which I refuse to honor with an answer. He did say that he had earned the judgeship by his work for the Democratic party and by his service as district attorney. It is my conviction, as it is by most lawyers, that a man aspires to the judgeship by first qualifying for the office as a good lawyer.

"Sculco made the remarkable statement that there are no bosses in this county. He must regard the average worker as a dunce if he expects to sell that to the citizens of Westmoreland County. Not once did Sculco deny the tie-up among Bill Nowe, Tom Tannas, Sam Mannerino and Kelly Mannerino.

"Let me complete the record for Mr. Sculco who insists there are no bosses. Sculco's top boss is A. B. (Buddy) Turner, chief of county detectives who openly consorts with the Mannerinos, Tannas and Jack Ross.

"Buddy and these boys are the bosses. By subservience to Buddy Turner and the boys, Sculco has failed to carry out the duties of his office. He claims that if he is elected judge he will be the same as he always was. With Turner at the helm, Sculco will be a Turner judge as he is a Turner district attorney."

Donahue, speaking in Irwin, asked his listners to determine if Loughran was telling the truth last

Russia's Red Regime Has Come Long Way in 40 Years

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UP) — Russia's Communist regime nears the 40th anniversary of the October revolution Nov. 7 drunk with its newly gained and awe — inspiring world power, but clearly in the throes of a fresh internal struggle for supreme leadership.

Looking back over this eventful 40 years, the regime can boast of having taken Russia a long way since a handful of old Bolsheviks stormed the Czarist Winter Palace on that gray fall day in 1917.

The 40 years of Communist rule have witnessed one of the most spectacular drives in modern history. They have seen some world shaking events and some of the most surprising achievements — some of them launched on a sea of blood and human agony.

Spectacular Party History

Russia, which 40 years ago lay prostrate and dismembered after years of bloodletting in World War I, today stands as one of the world's two military colossi, rivalling the United States for military might and aspiring at overtaking her economically.

Her expansionism dwarfs Western empire building of modern history, with her tentacles stretched deep into Europe and Asia.

Communist regimes, many of them still looking to Moscow for guidance, now control more than one-third of the world's total population.

Blood, starvation, wholesale extermination, degradation of human rights have been among the stepping stones to success.

For years, the Russian people themselves had to endure the grimness of Josef Stalin's dictatorship with its purges and concentration camps. His death brought the first glimpses of a better life. Today they are again faced by the uncertainties of a newly tightening regime.

Challenger Of U.S.

Thus 40 years aftr the revolution Russia stands provocatively as challenger of the United States, with the launching of the first satellite into outer space as the crowning result of her efforts.

But she too has her problems. They center around internal rifts, cracks in the seams of the expanded Soviet empire, the challenge to her ideological leadership and the emergence of "national Communism" among her satellites.

In the distance looms the rising star of Red China as a future challenge for Communist leadership. Today, China is an ally. Whether that will last when China is no longer economically dependent on Russia, no one can say.

Russia's most recent gain has been growing influence in the Middle East, until only a short time back an exclusive preserve of the Western sphere of influence.

The past four decades have also seen the destruction of Russia's once powerful middle and upper classes, he annihilation of the opposition, the liquidation of the Kulaks and the collectivization of agriculture and the emergence of a tight, all-powerful and all-controlling "monolithic" party apparatus.

Flu Cases on Increase; Deaths Reported Down

By UNITED PRESS

The killing power of influenza weakened during the past week, but flu cases were on the increase across the nation today.

Deaths attributed to flu and its complications since the outbreak last summer today totaled 495, a United Press survey showed.

There were 47 deaths reported since last Monday after a weekend spurt of 90 deaths jumped the total to 448. In contrast to the slowed-down death rate, the U.S. Public Health Service said new flu cases tripled in the past week, with 3,500,000 Americans afflicted since the outbreak started.

The Public Health Service also said a new high potency Asian flu vaccine will probably be ready for release within the next few weeks. The currently available vaccine has been rated as only about 50 per cent effective by government health officials.

Fatalities increased moderately in areas that had been hardest hit earlier, and New York State reported its total remained at 126 through most of the week.

Pennsylvania reported 84 deaths, California 40, and Michigan 39. There were 28 deaths in Ohio, 23 in Iowa, 21 each in Illinois and Louisiana.

St. Vincent to Hear Lecturer

Dr. Herbert Carleton Mayer, president of American Viewpoint Inc., will lecture at St. Vincent College November 12 and 13.

One of the nation's oldest citizenship educational organizations, American Viewpoint is a non-profit corporation which, in conjunction with the Association of American Colleges, supplies speakers, concerts, etc., to colleges. Dr. Mayer has headed the organization since 1949.

Cancer Society President Elected

NEW YORK (UP) Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall was elected 1957-58 president of the American Cancer Society Friday at the close of the organization's 44th annual meeting.

Coggeshall is dean of biological sciences at the University of Chicago.

Elected vice-president and president-elect for the society's 1958-59 year was Dr. Eugene P. Pendergrass, director of radiology at the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania.

Humane Kill

WASHINGTON (UP) — The National Humane Society said today that Mrs. Eisenhower could have done a world of good the other day when she posed for photographers in a new beaver coat, if only she had "expressed a hope" the beavers were killed in humane traps.

FBI Assistance Is Obtained in Anastasia Case

NEW YORK (UP)— Police assisted by FBI men today explored "a definite turn in one direction" in the slaying of Albert Anastasia eight days after the Murder, Inc., chieftain was shot to death in a hotel barbershop.

Participation of the FBI was disclosed Friday. Inspector Frederick Lussen emphasized the federal men were "assisting" a reinforced squad of 110 detectives and were not officially "in" on the case.

Since last Friday police have questioned about 700 persons in a search for leads to the two gunmen who brazenly cut down the murd master in a barbershop chair and escaped without a hitch.

Chief of detectives James B. Leggett said his men had investigated 150 possibilities. Friday that number was narrowed to one.

Police were reluctant to give details of the "one direction" in which they were now searching. But they admitted they would like to talk to Frankie Carbo, a gambler with connections in the boxing game.

Lawyers Fight Court Pictures

CHICAGO (UP) — Battle lines were drawn today between a legal research committee and spokesmen for photographers, broadcasters and televisers who want to report court proceedings.

A committee of the American Bar Foundation, a research agency, Friday urged the American Bar Assn. to oppose any change in Canon 35 of the ABA's Code of Judicial Ethics. Canon 35, usually followed by the nation's judges, bans radio microphones, TV cameras and newspaper photographers from courtrooms.

The committee said that despite improved picture reporting methods, the presence of cameras and microphones in a courtroom "inevitably creates visual and psychological distractions which have no justification in a court of law."

Centenarians Meet

LONDON (UP)—Fifteen centenarians from the Azerbaijani province of the Soviet Union got together to celebrate the joining of a new member to their clan, Moscow Radio said today. Apart from the 100-year-old newcomer, the youngest person present at the affair Thursday was 102, the broadcast heard here said. Oldest of the bunch was 110, it said.

High Russian Military In Khrushchev's Corner

No Shakeup Anticipated

LONDON (UP) — Top-ranking Soviet military officers apparently have swung their support to party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's purge of Marshal Georgi Zhukov, diplomatic sources said today.

As a result, they said, there probably will be no shakeup of the rest of the Army, Navy and Air Force high commands.

The support of the military officers plus that of the party high command apparently enabled Khrushchev to send party "agitators" throughout the Soviet Union Friday night to start the touchy task of explaining the purge of a hero to rank-and-file members.

A dispatch from United Press Staff Correspondent Henry Shapiro that cleared Soviet censorship this morning said the agitators — or explainers — held mass meetings in factories and offices.

Censorship Blocks Reports

It said they went into the history of the Soviet Union since the Bolshevik revolution 40 years ago. Moscow censorship apparently did not permit Shapiro to report what was said about Zhukov's fate.

Apparently all reference to this was held up pending an official announcement expected later today.

The explanation meetings were similar to those held before the fate of the Molotov "anti-party" group was announced publicly earlier this year.

High officers of all three services were guests of Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, who replaced Zhukov as defense minister, at a reception for visiting Egyptian War Minister Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer in Moscow Friday night.

Military Behind Khrushchev

Whether they were there out of fear or favor could not be determined. But diplomatic sources said it was clear that outwardly, at least, they have thrown their lot in with Khrushchev and Malinovsky against Zhukov.

For the third time since the announcement of Zhukov's dismissal last Saturday, word trickled out of the Soviet Union that the announcement of his fate was "imminent."

Western correspondents in Moscow made known through what probably was the strictest censorship since World War II that they had been led to believe the announcement would come today.

"PUT BECKS IN JAIL" — Auto Workers President Walter Reuther tells the AFL-CIO industrial union department convention in Washington that he would like to see laws "to put the Becks in jail where they belong." He added that "union busters like the Sheffermans" and employers who buy their services should go to the same lockup.

Zhukov Making Real Fight

WASHINGTON (UP) — If the official Moscow downgrading of Soviet war hero Georgi Zhukov drags on into next week, it could mean some real resistance has developed to Nikita Khrushchev's latest power play, American experts said today.

U.S. officials felt fairly certain, however, that Communist Party chief Khrushchev has won and the Kremlin is now setting the propaganda stage to announce the ousted defense minister has a second-rater's job — or worse.

News dispatches from Paris and Belgrade indicated the tough old warrior, who led Soviet forces in World War II, had balked at making the public "confession" of misconduct customary for deposed Russian officials. He was removed from office last Saturday.

In Berlin, "Information Bureau West," a private West German intelligence organization, said a large number of agitators went to East Germany also to ease the "shock" of the hukov ouster to Red army occupation troops there.

Minor Army Job Likely

Observers here agreed with reports from Soviet Embassy sources in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, that Zhukov would be assigned to an Army military administration post or to a Red Army service school. They said he also could be put in the Warsaw Pact Organization made up of Russia and its eastern European satellites.

Whatever the assignment, it is to be expected it will keep him under security wraps and deprive him of any authority in the Red Army.

Diplomats said it is not too surprising that a week has passed with no announcement of Zhukov's future. They recalled that Moscow Radio held up an announcement of the previous Khrushchev power play against Malenkov, Molotov, Kaganovich and Shepilov.

Waited Four Days

The decision against these former Khrushchev confidantes was announced July 3 although the action against them was taken June 29. It was some time later before new jobs in minor positions were announced for them all.

If Khrushchev did hit some snags in his anti - Zhukov move, officials said this would explain why Zhukov spent eight days in Albania before returning to Moscow after his trip to Yugoslavia. Announcement that Zhukov had been "relieved" as defense minister was made as Zhukov returned to Moscow last weekend.

Officials said it is hard to figure out any reason why a man of Zhukov's stature was "sidetracked" to Albania at a time when the Soviets were sabre-rattling in the Middle East and talking about war. This prompted the idea that the Kremlin high command wanted to keep Zhukov out of Moscow until they nailed down the case against him.

WANTS DEMOCRATS ELECTED—With a characteristic wave of his hat, former President Harry Truman gets off train in Los Angeles, followed by Mrs. Truman. He went there to speak at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, and said he wants to see Democrats elected everywhere. He said he would stump for California Attorney General Edmund Brown's gubernatorial campaign. Senator William Knowland is GOP candidate.

Ike Leadership Is Blasted by Truman

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Former President Truman scored the Republican administration Friday night for aggravating current international and national crises by allowing the United States to drift with events.

The elder statesman of the Democratic Party accused the present administration of a lack of "firm and foresighted leadership" in the handling of national defense and the civil rights problem at a Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner here.

The former president received a standing ovation before and after his address to a capacity crowd at the Biltmore Bowl.

"The administration is letting our defense system, on which the free world depends, go to pot—for a mess of pottage called a balanced budget," Truman charged.

On the domestic front, he criticized the kind of leadership which he said led to the calling out of troops to protect civil rights.

Changes Arrogance

The former president said "we actually are in the middle of an international crisis. The present administration's arrogance and self - righteousness have alienated our friends and weakened our alliances with other free nations."

Truman said that while the secretary of state "dances on the brink of war" the President has slowed military expenditures permitting the Russians to score their greatest propaganda victory in years through launching the first earth satellite.

He said it was "poor trading" for the administration, when it could not get a disarmament agreement with Russia, to cut down our armed forces unilaterally.

In outlining a five point set of principles which he said should guide the Democratic Party, the former president emphasized the principle of protecting civil rights. "I think that a firm and foresighted leadership might accomplish this without calling on the Army for help."

Sets Five Principles

The party principles he set forth were:

—The Democratic Party is, and must remain, the party of the people.

—The party must stand firmly and forthrightly for the full enjoyment and protection of civil rights — regardless of race, creed or national origin.

—The party must believe in, and work for a constant economic growth and rising standard of living.

—In foreign policy, the party must stand firmly for cooperation and concerted action with other free nations.

—The Democratic Party must support an adequate national defense, whatever the cost income of nearly 53 million dollars and Central nearly 43 million dollars. In the first nine months of 1957 Pennsylvania earned $1.49 a share, against $2.38 a share in the 1956 period. New York Central in the first eight months of the year earned $1.31 a share against $4.08 last year.

Merger Idea 25 Years Old

The executives recalled that when railroad consolidations were actively being proposed and discussed during the depression some 25 years ago, the idea generally advanced was that there be two or four competing systems serving the northeast corner of the United States.

Railroads of the nation have been having a difficult time. Their stocks have been depressed sharply in the market and they closed the week near the lowest level seen since mid-1954.

A sharp drop in car loadings was reported for the latest week and that report brought a halt to a rally that had been in progress in the market. Rails pulled the stocks down and wiped out the recovery. Their closing prices showed losses of $2 or more a share during the week.

Pennsylvania Railroad's stock closed the week at $15 a share off 12½ cents a share from the previous close. It sold as high as $22.50 earlier in the year. New York Central lost a similar amount to $18.88 a share, just about half of its high for 1957 of $36.63 a share.

Combine Trains, Stations

Many other railroads are in the same situation as these two. In this instance with facilities in a similar area, the two have much to save by merger, according to railroad experts. They could do away with 50 per cent of their stations, combine trains and eliminate many of them.

At the present time, for instance, the two duplicate luxury trains — the 20th Century Limited for the Central, and the Broadway Limited for Pennsylvania — are making the run to Chicago on identical schedules.

The two roads together have 4,200 locomotives, 272,000 freight cars and 9,000 passenger cars.

In ordinary circumstances the gigantic merger contemplated would never get beyond the study stage. Since railroads are regulated closely by the Interstate Commerce Commission, it is felt that the plan, if finally proposed, would receive not unfavorable consideration. But nothing definite can be determined on its reception until it is formally proposed by the two railroads.

May or this October. He suggested that the May statement was the accurate one.

Dent Defends Weiss

Judge David H. Weiss, Monessen, was defended against "newspaper criticism" by one of the Democratic party's top county orators this week in Latrobe.

State Sen. John H. Dent has apparently assumed the task of defending Judge Weiss. He said many of the newspaper critics "do not know Judge Weiss the kind of man he is, or his character, or they would not attack his record."

"Judge Weiss, I want to state right here and now, has been unremitting for the past 14 years in his fight for freedom of the press. But no matter how much good we Democrats do, the Republican newspapers of Westmoreland County give us hell anyway when election time rolls around.

"Certain newspapers, however, persist in becoming excited over defending ethereal principles. The result is biased, unfair and sometimes prejudiced publicity.

"We have, and have had, good government in the communities, townships and county for the past 21 years, because as the people's party we do good for all the people all the time, instead of just for a favored few."

Rostraver Rally

Republican candidates for Westmoreland County offices shot back at a Democratic charge that "they have no issues" during a rally at Celapino's Restaurant in Rostraver Twp. last night.

Avra N. Pershing, one of the GOP's three judicial candidates, sharply criticized a Democratic claim that the Republicans "have no record of accomplishments and they don't even have any issues."

Pershing charged that the Democratic party in the county has a "well-known record of failure of duty, lack of proper law enforcement, tied in with the political control of the so-called Chief Law Enforcement Officer Buddy Turner.

In defending the Republican candidates, Pershing stated that he had far more trial experience that the Democratic nominees put together.

Pershing repeated that the real issues of the campaign are "Turner's firm hold and control of law enforcement in the county. . .and the fair and impartial administration of justice."

The GOP nominee also reminded that the Democratic candidates have failed to reply to his letter of Oct. 5 which asked if they intended to refrain from partisan politics if elected and what position they took on Turner and his alleged political influence. Pershing added that the Democrats have refused to consider all challenges to debate the issue.

Robert H. Rial, also a GOP nominee for judge, denounced the Democratic candidates' refusal to face issues. He assailed a statement by Democratic candidates to the effect that if three Democratic judges are elected next Tuesday, there will be no injunctions against labor. He recalled that the common pleas bench has been made up solely of Democratic judges for the past 16 years and that during this time there have been several injunctions against labor organizations.

Rial also said that Democratic speakers have recently expressed concern over the fact that a sheriff's sale was held in the county. He pointed out that sheriff's sales have been common for many years, during which time Democrats have held control of the county.

Wayne R. Donahue, Republican candidate for district attorney, told the meeting he had received no reply to his public question of several days ago to his Democratic opponent, Earl S. Keim, whether if he (Keim) where elected he would have "Buddy Turner or possibly his son as chief of county detectives." Donahue has pledged to remove Turner from the post if he wins the election.

the powerful Democratic machine.

Both sides are looking for the supporters who backed Joseph M. Loughran in his unsuccessful bid for a judge nomination in the May primary. Loughran bolted the regular Democrat machine and ran as an independent Democrat in the primary. He had a heavy Democratic vote and also had support from numerous Republicans.

Loughran, two weeks ago, returned to the regular Democratic organization and has been backing the courthouse slate.

McKee said he believes the voters who supported Loughran in the primary, are among the "dissatisfied" Democrats and probably will favor the Republican candidates Tuesday.

Bauer, who is seeking a second 10-year term, is expected to lead the Democratic vote-getting for judge, observers say. Weiss, who was appointed to the bench last August to fill a vacancy created by the death of Judge George H. McWherter, is expected to edge out Sculco.

Rial, Republican observers predict, will lead the Republican judicial candidates, mainly on his strength in the Jeannette-Greensburg-Latrobe areas. Pershing is expected to be strong in the Monessen end of the County. Topper probably will trail his running mates.

Other Candidates

In the battle for D. A., Earl S. Keim, now an assistant D. A., faces Wayne Donahue, Republican. Both have been campaigning throughout the county on the basis of the legal experience and war records.

Prothonotary Leo D. Sukala, Democratic candidate for a fourth term, is being opposed by William Gox. Howard W. Bricker, veteran deputy sherriff, is seeking the clerk of courts position on the Democratic ticket and is being opposed by his brother-in-law, Robert Kunkle.

Democratic Coroner Stephen D. Yoney, who is serving by appointment, is campaigning for a full four-year term. His opponent is Joseph Hunter.

Dora M. Dunn, Democratic incumbent, and Margaret Henderson, Republican, are assured of their jury commissioners posts since each party designates one candidate and two are elected in the general election.

Observers are expecting a fairly heavy vote to be cast over the county.

— AN EDITORIAL —

To Vote for Unbossed Judges

THOSE readers who share the views which we have expressed during the current campaign concerning the choice of three common pleas judges in Westmoreland County will find it simple to register this decision next Tuesday, no matter how they choose to vote for other offices.

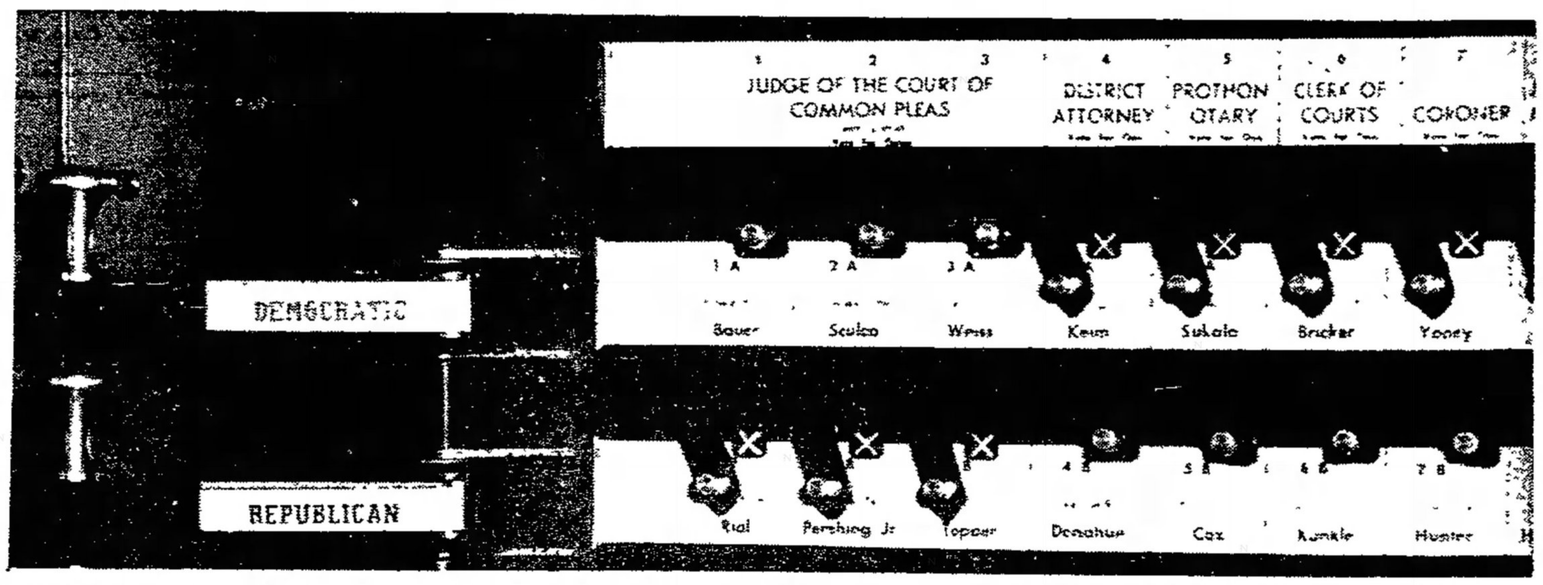
The procedure where paper ballots are used is familiar. Where voting machines are in use, as in Monessen, the process is just as easy. But this illustrated editorial should help to make it perfectly clear.

Our position has been that the three Republican candidates for judge — Robert H. Rial, Avra N. Pershing Jr., and Willis E. Topper — are to be preferred over their Democratic opponents —Edward G. Bauer, L. Alexander Sculco and David H. Weiss. We have spoken candidly on this important matter and have carefully explained the reasoning behind our position. The decision is now in the hands of the voters.

THE VOTER CAN VOTE FOR RIAL, PERSHING AND TOPPER FOR JUDGE NO MATTER HOW HE PLANS TO VOTE ON THE OTHER OFFICES. In the three photographs below we show that portion of the voting machine where candidates for county offices are listed and how the machine will look when properly set to vote for Rial, Pershing and Topper.

* * *

I. If Voting a Straight Democratic Ticket.



THE VOTER who wishes to vote a straight Democratic ticket for other offices but to vote for Rial, Pershing and Topper for judge follows this procedure:

1. Pull the Democratic party lever at the extreme left of the voting machine. This turns down the pointers over the names of all Democratic candidates.

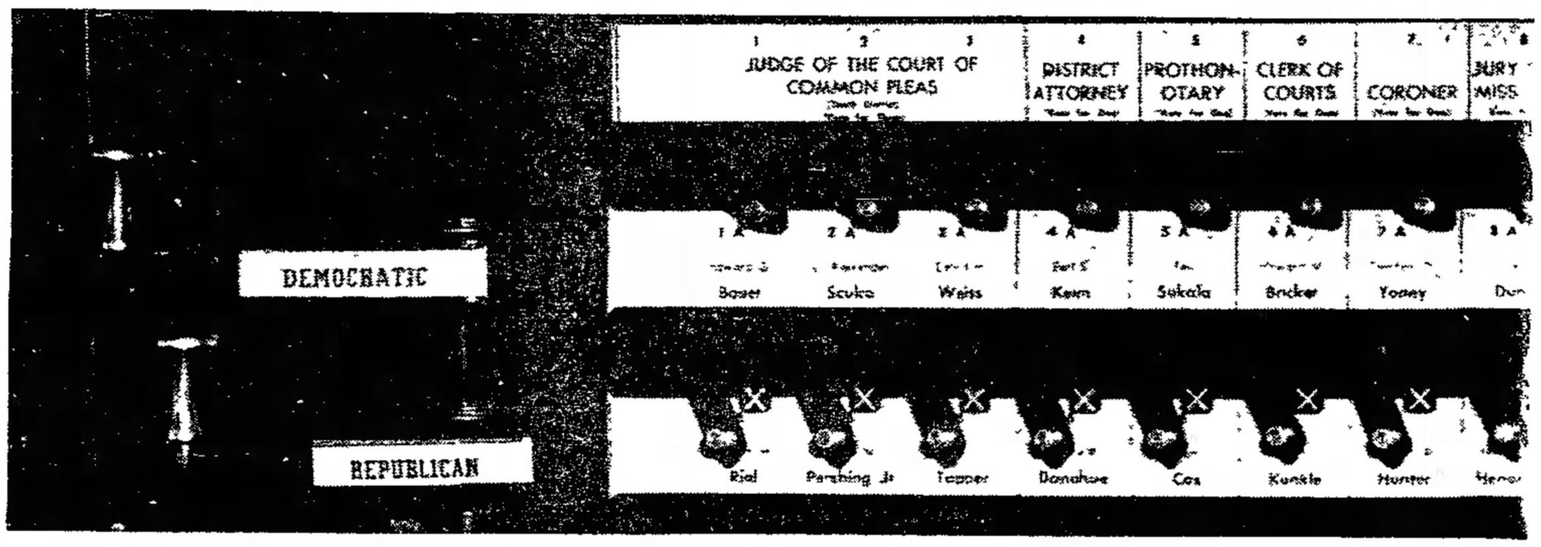
2. Turn UP the pointers over the names of Bauer, Sculco and Weiss.

3. Turn DOWN the pointers over the names of Rial, Pershing and Topper.

The machine is now set to register your vote for the Democratic candidates for other offices and for Rial, Pershing and Topper for judge. It will appear as pictured in the above illustration. You pull the handle to open the curtain and your vote is registered.

* * *

II. If Voting a Straight Republican Ticket.



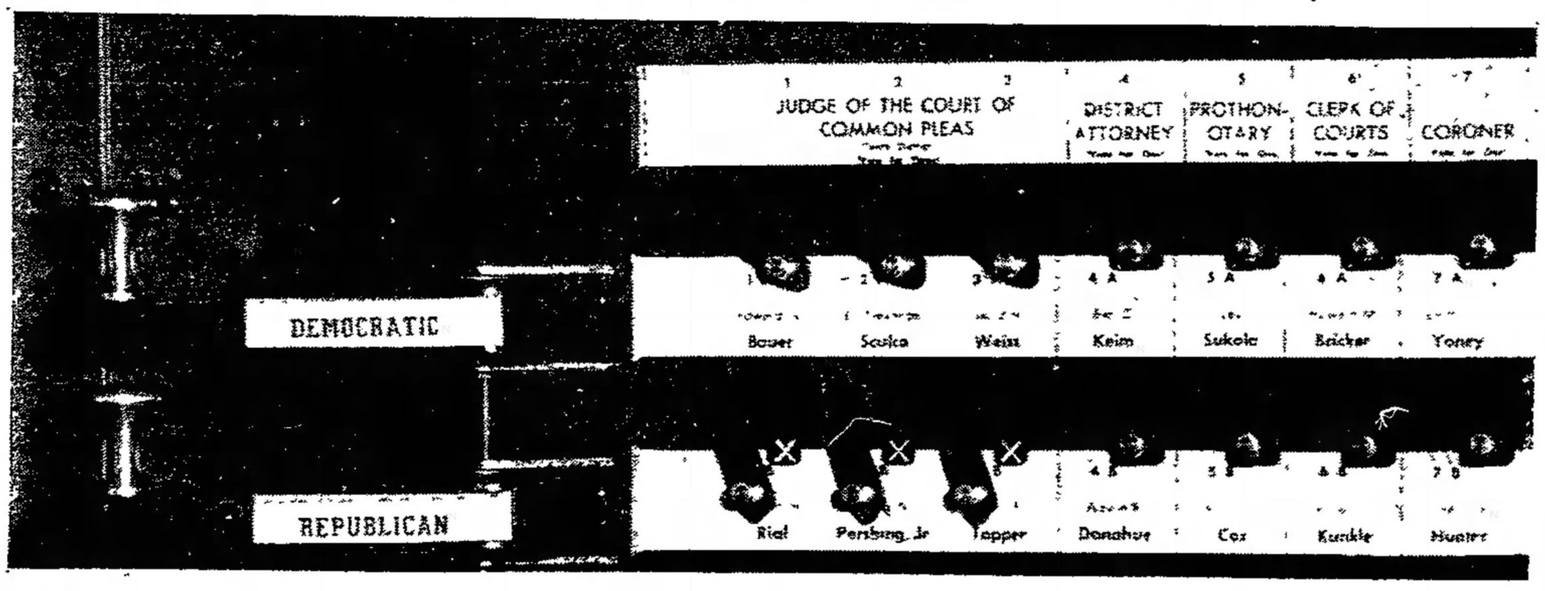
THE VOTER who wishes to vote for all the Republican candidates, including Rial, Pershing and Topper for judge, simply does as follows:

1. Pull the Republican party lever at the left of the machine.

This sets the machine to vote for Rial, Pershing and Topper and for all other candidates on the Republican ticket. The machine will appear as pictured above. Pull the handle to open the curtain, and your vote is registered.

* * *

III. If Voting for Individual Candidates Regardless of Party.



THE VOTER who prefers to cast his vote for individual candidates for each office simply ignores the party levers at the left of the machine. It is NOT NECESSARY to pull either of them. He then:

1. Sets the pointer over the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to cast a vote.

In the illustration just above the machine is set to cast votes for Rial, Pershing and Topper. Because we consider the judicial contest of supreme importance, the pointers are not set to the names of other candidates for county offices in the illustration.

AS A FINAL check in each instance, the voter can make sure that the white "X" is showing over the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote. If the "X" is showing, the vote will be cast properly — the machine makes it mechanically impossible to "spoil" a vote.

Pentagon Cuts Hurt Control Of Hurricanes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It may seem a long way from a closed-door meeting in the Weather Bureau recently to the prestige we lost over sputnik, but there are certain connections just the same.

If the United States could discover a way to control hurricanes or predict their paths more accurately, it's hard to overestimate the propaganda victory we would win in the Far East and South America.

Japan, the Philipines, and Japan the Philippines, and the countries of Southeast Asia suffer millions of dollars of property damage and lose thousands of lives from these tropical storms which in the Eastern Hemisphere are called "typhoons." Should the United States divert just one typhoon away from the flimsy wooden houses of a Japanese city, it would win the respect and gratitude of millions of Asians.

However, despite this, and despite Defense Secretary McElroy's new concern over basic research the top brass of the Air Force are still refusing to keep three Air Force planes flying next year in the National Hurricane Research Project.

At the closed-door meeting at the Weather Bureau, officers of the Air Weather Service of the Air Force reluctantly refused to discuss keeping the three research planes flying. They agreed with Weather Bureau meteorologists that the National Hurricane Research Project is the most hopeful hurricane research in history. But they were under orders from Defense Department economizers not to discuss the three Air Force research planes now being stripped of their electronic recording equipment at Palm Beach, Fla.

Curtailed Research

Prospect now is that the Weather Bureau will have to get along by installing a small amount of electronic equipment on the "hunter" planes still assigned to it by the Air Force and Navy. In most cases, Weather Bureau meteorologists will be unable to ride along as they now do on the three specially equipped research planes.

The National Hurricane Research Project was planned with the help of the world's top meteorologists three years ago after a rash of hurricanes brought havoc to the U. S. coastal cities. It was then considered a long-range economy measure, for today a city like Miami can easily spend $1,000,000 just buttoning up against an approaching storm. When money like that is involved, the importance of accurately predicting a hurricane's course is obvious.

Meteorologists pointed out three years ago that the average hurricane is 350 miles wide and eight miles deep, filling the fantastic total of 1,000,000 cubic miles. The only way to discover how to control them, they said, was to record conditions in each of those million cubic miles — not once, but perhaps as often as every hour. This can only be done with an airplane equipped with electronic recording devices, since the human hand can't write fast enough while an airplane is flying through a storm.

The three special research planes can take readings every 10 seconds. By contrast, the "hunter" planes, when equipped with a small amount of electronic equipment, will supply perhaps 1-1000th as much data. They will continue. The other planes will not.

Note — It's ironic that the Air Force, which has abandoned its special role in hurricane research, is frequently the first to brag whenever one of the "hunger" planes discovers a hurricane in time to warn a city.

Teddy Roosevelt Centennial Knifed

When President Eisenhower attended centennial church services for Teddy Roosevelt on Sunday, few members of the congregation knew that one of Ike's chief lieutenants on Capitol Hill had previously scuttled a resolution calling for national honors to Teddy.

Earlier this year, Sen. James Murray (D., Mont.) introduced a resolution designating 1958 as a Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Year. This was to be in honor of the first National Conference of Conservation called in 1908 by Roosevelt and his chief forester Gifford Pinchot.

Murray's resolution was backed by 63 Senators and received unanimous approval in the Senate. However, when it got to the House Judiciary Committee, Kenneth Keating of New York, an Eisenhower Republican, led an onslaught on the bill that emasculated its provision. As a result, it never did get a final okay from Congress.

Keating comes from the same state that sent Teddy Roosevelt to the White House — New York. But, goaded by private utility lobbyists, Keating fought to water down the resolution. He feared public power enthusiasts might use the Teddy Roosevelt celebration as a base for attacking Eisenhower's contrary power policy. Keating's amendments would have limited expenditures for the Roosevelt Centennial to a paltry $20,000 and barred the soliciting of private contributions.

Syrian Situation Is Still Very Serious

By WALTER LIPPMANN

On Tuesday Khrushchev went to a cocktail party at the Turkish Embassy, and there he toasted peace exuberantly and repeatedly. So it looks as if for the time being the heat has been let out of the Turkish-Syrian crisis. This will confirm the opinion of those who have been saying that nobody has been planning to make war on any one else, and that it was a misreading of the game of power politics to suppose that Turkey or Syria, that Russia or the United States, was getting ready to move.

Mr. Lippmann

It would, however, be a serious mistake to conclude from this that because war is not impending, the Syrian situation is not a very serious one. Syria is a dangerous place for the world because so much is at stake for all the great powers at a time when the Syrian government is weak, unstable, and not the master in its own house. The controlling fact is that the Syrian government cannot be depended upon to maintain its independence and to hold to a policy of neutrality. If it could be depended upon to do this, Syria would break out of the vicious circle of great power politics. Because the government is weak, the great powers have all concluded that Syria will fall either into the orbit of the Soviet Union or into the orbit of the United States.

This being the basic problem, the Syrian plots and counterplots abroad and at home, are full of dynamite. They should not be monkeyed with by anyone who is not sure that he can control the consequences.

Fresh Start

If, as Khrushchev's gestures at the Turkish Embassy indicate, there is to be a lull in the cold war over Syria, would it not be the part of wisdom to regard it as an opportunity to attempt a fresh start in the Middle East? If this is to be done, Mr. Dulles will have to mind the current events, overcome his own obsession, which is reflected in the Eisenhower doctrine, that most of the Arab countries can be, or at least should be, aligned in a common military front against the Soviet Union.

Mr. Dulles will have to open his mind to the idea that most if not all of the Arab countries do not wish to expel either Russia or the United States from the Middle East. It is evident to them that they have much more to gain from the two great powers competing than from the exclusive influence of either one of them. If this is correct, and I have no doubt it is, Mr. Dulles has no chance to succeed in the Middle East if he refuses to accept the fact that the Soviet Union is a principal power — a power which cannot be expelled and excluded, which must be balanced and negotiated with.

We should, it seems to me, have it clearly in mind that we are on the threshhold of a new situation in regard to the oil in the Middle East. This is often taken to mean that the Arab countries, infiltrated by the Soviet Union, may attempt to ruin Western Europe by depriving it of access to the oil.

What Is Likely

Theoretically, that could happen if we take the simple view that Russia may conquer and occupy the oil countries. But in fact this is not likely to happen since it would precipitate a world war. What is likely to happen is that the Arab countries, using Soviet influence as a lever, will attempt to force the Western oil companies to a radical revision of the existing contracts. The Middle Eastern countries have no interest in cutting off the export of oil to Europe. On the contrary, it is their vital interest that the trade should continue. What they will seek, both the oil-bearing countries around the Persian Gulf, and the transit countries like Syria and Egypt, is a bigger share of the profits of the oil business.

The time is not far distant when we should be well prepared, first intellectually and then in our diplomacy, for what lies not far before to be done. Mr. Dulles will have to mind the current events.

Where Are Tokens for Plazas?, Cramer Asks

To the Editor:

It has become evident in recent weeks that the parking tokens used for Monessen's parking plazas are nowhere to be found, bought or had.

More and more merchants have discovered that the Chamber of Commerce have none for sale and that any information as to when any would be available was indefinite. Realizing that the situation was disturbing to me, particularly as chairman of the Monessen Parking Authority, I started an investigation of my own and have come up with the following facts.

Originally in December of 1956 20,000 tokens were purchased and put into the hands of the merchants for distribution. Some 90 days later 10,000 more tokens were purchased and distributed to the merchants.

The cost to the merchant was 5½ cents apiece. Thirty thousand tokens in the City of Monessen, a town with approximately 5,000 cars, means that there are in the hands of the public about 6 tokens per car. Yet today a shopper can go to any number of stores and cannot get a token because there are none available.

Further investigation has proven these facts.

The public is accumulating these tokens. I cannot say why, but they are not coming back into the plaza meters. If the public would but use one half of the tokens per month, or the equivalent of $750 per month, then with the present cash income the plaza would more than pay for itself in a very short space of time.

I am making this appeal now to the public, because the plaza is now but a few hundred dollars short of being self liquidating. The Chamber is now in the process of purchasing 5000 more tokens. We hope that these, when given to the shopper, will be used in the plaza meters.

I also am making a plea to those families who have accumulated the tokens to please use them. In that way no shortage of tokens will exist and the plaza will become a self-supporting proposition well within the prescribed two years.

Parking Authority Chairman

Charleroi Again Cage Favorite

They started aiming for that hoop with the net hanging from it yesterday around the WPIAL circuit . . . In other words the 1957-58 basketball season drills got underway under the schoolboy league rules for the first time . . . Coach Frank Janosik of the Greyhounds probably had a very wistful look about him as he glanced at the local squad and noticed that gaping hole where Al Thiry, the skyscraper freshman cager of last season, should be standing . . . Instead, due to unavoidable conditions, Thiry will be drilling with the Charleroi Cougars and should he develop according to his 6-5 height to team with such outstanding courtmen as Ollie Payne and Jimmy Chacko, the favorite role immediately looms bigger and bigger for the Cougars in the valley race.

* * *

Tom Barbero, popular valley grid official, is really making the rounds in speaking engagements having talked before clubs and organizations in Belle Vernon and Fayette City and most recently to the West Newton Rotary Club . . . He speaks on "Football and Officiating" and intersperses his talks with bits of humor like the suggestion that football fields be equipped with trap-doors in the center of the field so that the officials can immediately get out of sight following games and avoid being heckled or other embarrassing developments . . . His talk at West Newton was arranged by James Sterner, now superintendent of schools there . . . He is a former Monongahela High assistant grid mentor.

* * *

Stephens Tabbed WPIAL's Best

Sanford Stephens, the Uniontown High quarterback, who performed so ably against Monessen here a few weeks back, has been tabbed by many grid observers as the best quarterback in the WPIAL . . . But he has strong competition from a neighborhood rival Ron Novak of South Union who is excellent on the option and a fine passer . . . He can also travel as his 45 yard run against Bellmar Thursday night will attest . . . Bud Roman and Jim Leeper were part of the four-man officiating team which worked the Monongahela-Donora contest last night . . . The Dragon-Wildcat and Monessen-Charleroi series are two of the oldest in the WPIAL.

* * *

Local Ozark AC members are reminded not to miss tomorrow's important meeting at the Ravens AA Club rooms (1 o'clock) to discuss (among other things) the possible reviving of a semo-pro football team here next season and to make plans for the 1958 Mon Valley Basketball Tournament . . . President Anthony Mascetta urges a full turnout . . . While on the subject of basketball tournaments, St. Vincent College will hold the first annual "Latrobe Invitational Basketball Tournament" at Sportsman's Hall on Dec. 27 and 28 with the Bearcats, St. Francis, LeMoyne of Syracuse and Albright College . . . That St. Vincent athletic plant is really something with a first-class cage court, bowling alleys, billiard tables, etc. etc.

Hunters Advised to Wear Yellow!

Hunters are advised by the Vision Conservation Institute, Inc. a non-profit organization, to wear yellow hunting caps and yellow jackets . . . not red! . . .In fact, the Institute warns that red may be one of the most dangerous colors in apparel because it is not quickly distinguished by either color-blind hunters or those normal vision . . . One of the big reasons the traditional red is so far down the list as acceptable is because hunters operate in a reddish-brown landscape . . . Orange is listed as the second best color with green and plaids high on the list but blue rates just about as low as red.

Fraley Seeks Mountain For Next Golf Round

By OSCAR FRALEY

ISTANBUL (UP) — Armed with a nine-iron, a driver and three golf balls "borrowed" from Sammy Snead and a white-haired caddy known as "Red," I'm searching today for a negotiable mountain 12,996 feet high.

This golfing safari started in Tokyo at the conclusion of the International Trophy and Canada Cup matches. Now it has carried me one quarter of the way around the world and I may have to wind up in Colorado as a Pike's Peak parbuster, which should teach a guy not to bet ever.

The culprit behind it all is a fellow named Don Schuck, assistant sports editor of Stars and Stripes. A sporting type this Schuck who, if truth be known, is just a bit jealous of Fearless Fraley's reputation for dash, daring and all that sort of thing.

So as the Canada Cup matches ended Schuck boasted:

"I've done something that Snead, Jimmy Demaret, and even you, Fearless, have never done. I've played to the top of Mount Fujiyama and hold the world record for height and strangest 'out' and 'in' nines. I went 'out' in 1275 shots and 'in' in one—hitting my tee shot off the top of the mountain and rolling it all the way down."

This is a challenge which, of course, no cleancut, red-blooded American boy could refuse.

So I bet him 35,000—yen that is—that I could play a higher mountain in fewer shots.

The trouble I've discovered in inspecting quite a lot of hilly property is that while Fujiyama is 12,995 feet up, there aren't many mountains available which are just one foot higher. And one foot higher is all I'm going to settle for because I'm the type who gets nosebleed when he mounts to the top of a three-step ladder.

Snead may as well know now that he contributed the equipment, his bag being handy at the moment. It's being carried carefully by my caddy and assistant mountain inspector, Walter W. (Red) Smith, a spelling machine man from the New York Herald Tribune who complains that he's beginning to feel like a modern Stanley looking for a doctor of geology.

We inspected the terrain in Okinawa and then thought we "had it" in Hong Kong. But while Lion's Head seemed like the biggest mountain in the world as our plane scraped past it into Kaitak Airport we found out later it was only 1616 feet high.

Bangkok didn't have anything suitable and then flying across India we rejected Mount Everest. If they're going to make a big deal out of climbing it we decided they couldn't get our business.

Charleroi Tops Greyhounds, 21-12

Janosik Greets 35 Cagers

Thirty-five cage candidates reported to Monessen High basketball coach Frank Janosik yesterday afternoon at the opening day of practice permitted under WPIAL rules.

Included among the 35 reporting were only two holdovers Dick DiBiaso and Joe Curry, both seniors. DiBiaso was a regular in 1956, Curry saw considerable action.

Naturally, additional holdovers will report upon the completion of the football season with several outstanding candidates expected to come from the grid squad.

Janosik plans daily drills, including Saturday for the 1957-58 hopefuls beginning today.

He will again be assisted by Anthony Caterino and John Dacko.

Rostraver Handed 49-7 Drubbing By Carmichaels High

Carmichaels High School built up a 42-7 first half lead, then coasted to victory over the Rostraver High Leopards at Carmichaels last night.

Quarterback Del Whoolery and halfback Bob Orlosky paced the Mikes' attack with two touchdowns each.

Carmichaels' first touchdown came on the initial play of the game when Whoolery tossed an aerial to Nopwasky which went for 43 yards to paydirt. Whoolery scored later on a keeper play.

Four more Cumberland Township touchdowns scored in the second period before the Mikes substituted freely and only tallied one more six-pointer.

Four in Second Period

In the second quarter Nopwasky plunged six yards for another TD. Bob Orlosky then intercepted for Cumberland and scampered to the goal line. Mahle made the fifth touchdown. Modrick, in as quarterback, then passed to Orlosky, who scored the sixth.

Sub quarterback Modrick scored the final TD for the winners in the last quarter when he took off on a 57 yard run.

Rostraver's lone score came on a 45 yard pass play from Bob Keith to halfback Gus Allen in the second stanza.

Next start for the Leopards is at Penn Joint next Saturday.

Trojans Bumped From 'A' Chase

Waynesburg High erased California from the WPIAL Class title picture, playing a 7-7 stalemate with the unbeaten Trojans, who had bagged six in a row prior to lastnight in a game played at California.

The Trojans and Rec Raiders exchanged a touchdown apiece in the opening period and neither scored again although both had second-half scoring opportunities.

Frank Scrip hammered two yards, capping a 74-yard march, and Larry Irwin knifed over for the extra point as the Burgundy-and-Gold grabbed an early 7-0 margin.

Waynesburg retaliated on a 65-yard drive, Dick Martindale cracked over from inside the five. Tom Blanche then booted the point that was to seal California's doom as a WPIAL contender.

Donora in 40-13 Win Over Monongahela

Donora scored on the very first play of the game against Monongahela on the Wildcats' field last night and then went on to cop an easy 40-13 victory in the only game involving a Big Five team in addition to the Monessen-Charleroi clash.

Dave Russell and Angelo Dabiero, who tallied three times, led the rout with Russell tossing touchdown passes to Dabiero, Eloy Ramirez and Bing Alcott and Dabiero collecting three six-pointers.

A Russell-Dabiero aerial was good for 67 yards and a touchdown on the first play of the game.

Spectacular Plays

Another spectacular Donora play was a 52-yard pass maneuver for a touchdown with ace P-O-N-Y League baseball pitcher Chuck Giuffrida firing to a fellow sophomore, Tom Ruscitti.

Bob Johnson tallied for the Wildcats on a 28-yard run and a pass from Jim Robertson to Jim Penrod accounted for the other MHS touchdown.

The Dragons, in second place in the Big Five, are 4-3 for the season and 2-1 in the conference and the Wildcats have a 2-4 season mark and a 0-2 record in the league.

Waynesburg to Battle Findley College Tonight

WAYNESBURG, Nov. 2 — Fresh from a win last week, making it two in a row, the Waynesburg College gridsters are assigned to tangle with Findlay College at Findlay, Ohio, tonight.

The Jackets will be going into the game with two wins, one loss and a tie. Findlay has won just one game and dropped five. Their latest loss with a 34 to 13 rout last week by Bluffton College in Ohio.

Last year Waynesburg topped the Oilers in a thriller, winning in the last few minutes of the game, 12 to 7, on a touchdown by Bob Mazie.

Monessen's Eddie Galaski has been a sparkplug at end for the Jackets.

Though old man flu has been driven from the Jacket squad, several men are injured. Gene Butalla, first string guard, will be benched with a bad shoulder, Jim Merchant will probably be moved to the guard spot.

Uniontown Almost In as Western Champ

Scoring three first half touchdowns on the passing Quarterback Sanford Stephens and the hard running of Halfback Bill Munsey, Uniontown High's Red Raiders then added one more six-pointer in the final period before marking up a 28-0 victory over game Connellsville last night before about 4,000 fans in Coker Stadium.

The win is expected to give the Raiders the Western Conference championship, as a result of 20 points on previous wins over Mount Lebanon and Washington, and last night's 28-6 defeat of Baldwin by the contender to the locals' loop supremacy.

Locals Trail by Only 14-12 Until Final 55 Seconds of Classic

Charleroi High School's Cougars scored a touchdown in the first two minutes and another in the final minute of the annual battle with the Monessen Greyhounds at Charleroi Stadium last night but in between these two scores the 'Hounds gave the host team a real battle in a 21 - 12 defeat before about 6,000 fans.

Charleroi had a touchdown the very first time they handled the ball with leading-conference scorer Joe Uhlman slicking off right tackle and going 42 yards for a score with just a minute and 15 seconds gone in the game.

Greyhound Fumble

The touchdown was set up by a Monessen fumble on the first play from scrimmage after Carl Rattay had returned the opening kickoff to the Monessen 29. Joe Karbowsky had made a nice gain off tackle when the ball slipped from his arms and Ollie Payne fell on it for the Cougars.

Monessen came back to chalk up a first down but again a fumble gave the ball to Charleroi. The next time the 'Hounds had the ball they again moved to a first down and again a fumble (recovered by Barton) figured in stopping the locals although a 12-yard loss on a pass attempt actually halted the drive.

The Cougars moved the ball early in the second period to the 'Hound 28 with four straight first downs on what appeared to be another touchdown but Monessen Quarterback Dan Barton intercepted a Gary Hogan pass on the four and ran it out to the 10. Later he punted out of danger.

Only 40 seconds remained in the first half when Ken Bronson 'Hound halfback, shot over from the one yard line after a 40-yard pass from Barton to Dennis O'Toole set up the touchdown. O'Toole going to the one. The extra point attempt failed and the teams went to the dressing room with Charleroi leading 7-6.

A brilliant half-time show by both bands thrilled the fans.

Receiving the second half kickoff the Cougars never stopped until Daugherty streaked around left to climax a 60-yard drive and Payne kicked his second extra point for a 13-6 count.

'Hounds Never Quit

The never-say-die 'Hounds kept trying until late in the fourth quarter their efforts were rewarded when Bronson capped a 75-yard march driving over right tackle for the second Monessen score and a 14-12 count. Andy Carollo was stopped short on a plunge for the extra point.

A bit of strategy backfired for the locals on the ensuing kickoff when an attempted outside kick went out of bounds on the Monessen 42.

After just barely making a first down Uhlman almost duplicated his earlier run when he swept right end for 35 yards and the final touchdown with just 55 seconds remaining in the game. Payne again added the point after for the 21-12 count.

The locals hit on a 12-yard pass from Barton to Bronson, a play on which Bronson was injured, for 12 yards, as the game ended. Center Lou Gigliotti was also helped from the field as was Bobo Aldrich. Aldrich and Gigliotti are probably out for the season.

Just how evenly fought the game was can be shown by the first downs, 13-10 for Monessen, with Charleroi gaining 231 yards from scrimmage to the locals' 209.

'Mike' Gets Three-Year Pact

Webb Decisions Vaughn in Real 'Middle' Thriller

NEW YORK (UP) — Middle weight contender Spider Webb, victor over Willie Vaughn in a five-alarm blazer of a fight, said today "after that one, I know I'm ready to take on any 10-pounder in the world — particularly the champion"

Webb of Chicago, the sixth ranking aspirant, explained, "that was the fastest 10-rounder I ever fought; seemed like we were going all-out every second. And I don't know what kept him on his feet—under the pace and the punches he took"

The Spider, weighing 158½ pounds to 160½ for the California state champion, wound up with a unanimous decision at Madison Square Garden Friday night, despite Vaughn's desperate, floundering rally in the last two rounds.

"I don't know what my next match will be," said 26-year-old Webb, who registered his 25th victory in 27 starts before a rainy-night crowd estimated at 2,000. "But I'll fight anybody who can advance me toward the title."

No. 5 Building Stays Ahead in APERL

League-leading No. 5 building shut out cold draw to say in first place ahead of Pipe Shop in APERL bowling this week.

Other winners were Pipe Shop, General Office, OWT, Electric and Lab.

P. Marraccini of OWT showed the top card with a 237-544 night followed by C. Calamari with a 225-531. Others among the point leaders were A. Colosimo, R. Bartolozzi, D. Lazzari, B. Titler, H. Mavrikcas, J. Schwab, E. Organ, O. Stanley, J. Koval, N. Foglia, R. Remington, R. Chko, M. Renkey and P. Tihansky.

Pitt in Contract Renewal

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pitt coach John Michelosen, whose team has suffered two straight defeats, had a vote of confidence today in the form of a new three-year contract.

The 42-year-old Michilosen was tendered the new contract at a varsity letermen's banquet Friday home-coming game with Syracuse. The announcement by Athletic Director Tom Hamilton confirmed earlier reports that the likeable coach would be rehired.

Salary terms were not announced. Michelosen was believed to have received between $13,000 and $15,000 when he first took over the head coaching chores at his alma mater in 1955.

Michelosen posted a 7-3 record in 1955 and took the Panthers to the Sugar Bowl where they lost to Georgia Tech, 7-0. Last season, Pitt had a 7-2-1 record and was promptly invited to the Gator Bowl where it lost to Georgia Tech, 21-14.

The former Pitt quarterback, a student of the late Jock Sutherland and his single wing, currently has a 3-3 record and was highly favored to defeat Syracuse today.

Michelosen entered the coaching field in 1938 as a backfield coach to Sutherland. When Sutherland moved to the pro ranks to coach the old Brooklyn Dodgers in 1940 and 1941, Michelosen went along.

After three years in the Navy, Michelosen returned to Pittsburgh in 1946 and was hired by Sutherland as an assistant coach of the Steelers. When Sutherland died in 1948, Michelosen took over as the youngest coach in the pro ranks.

Schooled in the principles of single wing under Sutherland, Michelosen switched to the split-T formation when he took over from Red Dawson, who retired from coaching because of illness in 1954. Hamilton finished out the 1954 season as Pitt's coach.

Michelosen employed his own version of the split-T, which veteran football observers tabbed as the old single wing in disguise. Instead of the quick opener, which allows for a momentary hole for a ball carrier, Michelosen has his offense hold the opening long enough so one and sometimes two blockers precede the ball carrier.

Under Sutherland, Michelosen quarterbacked Pitt for three years. He climaxed his college career by leading Pitt to a Rose Bowl victory over the University of Washington in 1937.

Mazur, Carotta Tops In St. Leonards

Mary Mazur had a 176 single game high and Mary Carrotta hit for a 420 three-game series to lead the St. Leonard's Ladies League bowling last night.

Team winners were St. Ann and St. Theresa over St. Elizabeth and St. Cecelia.

Others among the top pin-toppers were Martha Druash, Ruth Koget, Elizabeth Hricko, Helen Bender, Ann Zakoski and Betty Parente.

Standings — St. Theresa 20-7; St. Cecelia 14-13, St. Elizabeth 10-17; and St. Ann 10-17.

Royals But Three

MONTREAL (UP)— The Montreal Royals of the International League have purchased three players — pitcher Stan Johnson, infielder Leon Carter and outfielder Frank Wehner — from Richmond of the same circuit. The trio was acquired by Richmond earlier from New Orleans of the Southern Association.

West Virginia Slight Favorite Over State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP)—West Virginia was established a slight favorite to defeat Penn State today in a game expected to be another of the rugged encounters which have marked their rivalry.

A crowd of 28,000 was expected to witness the kickoff at 1:30 p.m.

Both teams were without a key player. The Mountaineers' star guard, Chuck Howley, was sidelined with a jaw fracture and Penn State's ace quarterback, Al Jacks, was out with a shoulder separation.

Penn State coach Rip Engle named sophomore Richie Lucas to fill in for Jacks. In the Lions' 20-12 win over previously unbeaten Syracuse last week, Lucas connected for three of four passes, one a touchdown toss.

Joe Nicely, one-half of what coach Art Lewis has termed "the best pair of guards in America", was back after a three - game absence to take over Howley's left guard spot. Bob Guenther remained at right guard, where he took over after Nicely was injured.

West Virginia's superior aerial defense, which didn't allow William & Mary a single pass completion last week, was expected to be put to a severe test. Penn State had to contend with the Mountaineers' strong ground game, ninth best in the country.

West Virginia has come along fast after a rather slow start to win four games against one loss and a tie

Penn State has won three and lost two.

The only common opponent was William & Mary. Penn State had to come from behind to defeat the Virginians, 21-13, while West Virginia walloped the Indians, 19-0, last week.

In series play, Penn State has won 15 of 23 games. The teams have split their last six contests. The 1956 tilt here saw Penn State the victor, 16-6. West Virginia won the previous three, including a pair of thrillers here, 20-19 and 19-14.

Buick Presents Its 1958 Line Of Cars at Mon Valley Motors

Those great new Buicks for '58 are being displayed now at the Buick sales and service firm Mon Valley Motors, Inc., 252 East Donner ave., here.

Buick has presented its 1958 line of cars with which General Manager Edward T. Ragsdale hopes to capture a greater percentage of industry sales next year.

The 1958 models, with dynamic new styling, feature the new miracle ride, a revolutionary new Dyna-flow transmission, improved brakes with thicker linings and a host of other engineering changes.

The new cars are in dealer showrooms, the first of General Motors' Golden Anniversary models to be shown the public.

The new Buicks come in five series, topped by the new Limited, a distinctively-styled luxury model which is Buick's new entry in the prestige car market.

"This is the beginning of a new era for Buick," Ragsdale said. "Our new styling, which features the most dazzling grille design in the history of Buick, is a complete departure from the industry's traditional front end design.

"With the new air-poise suspension, which literally floats the car on four columns of air; the new flight pitch Dynaflow transmission, which provides a spectacular increase in performance, and the new air-cooled aluminum brakes, Buick attains a new high in automotive engineering."

All models are equipped with dual headlights on each front fender.

The new styling features are apparent from every angle, with the most spectacular change in the grille which is unlike anything ever offered in the industry.

Previously, grilles have been distinguished by vertical or horizontal bars of chrome, varying in design. Instead of chrome bars, the new Buick grille is distinguished by chrome squares, like jewels, set in four rows that extend all the way across the front to the outer extremities of the car, accentuating the lowness and breadth. Each chrome square is composed of four triangular surfaces designed to reflect maximum light, giving the front end roetaoin shrdiu cmfwyp vbgkqj greater sparkle and beauty.

The fender line has been lowered and the hood line raised slightly to complement the new front end design.

The front fenders project over the headlights and the leading edge is capped by a chrome strip which extends around the fender and becomes part of the side molding. This molding extends gracefully along the side of the car all the way back to the rear wheel cutout, which has been modified to reveal only the lower portion of the wheel.

A "V" and ring adorn each front fender on all models to make it easier to gauge distance in traffic.

A panel of ribbed aluminum trimmed in chrome, extends along the side of the rear fender on all models except the Limited. On this series, the rear fenders, which are eight inches longer, are trimmed with three banks of chrome-capped louvres to make it more distinctive from the rest of the line.

The rear fenders of all models are topped by a chrome applique which blends with the newly-styled taillight housing.

Heading the list of exclusive engineering achievements on the 1958 Buicks is the new flight pitch Dynaflow transmission in which the stator vanes operate on the same "switch the pitch" principle as an airplane propellor.

The new transmission also has three turbines instead of two, which increases the torque output.

Use Pittsburgh Paints to Give Color to Home

Color is magic. It can make a room seem gay or quiet, drab or sunny, small or large.

And those colorful interior paints of Pittsburgh's line, sold for years in Monessen and the Valley by Derby's Construction & Supply, 443 Donner avenue, will add charm and beauty to your home.

There's still time for some outdoor painting, but during the long Fall and Winter evenings ahead when you get a little tired of looking at television, you can pass away your spare time profitably by enhancing the home's charm and beauty with paint. And even an amateur can apply Pittsburgh paints—they brush on so easily and smoothly.

New improvements in paint have changed the face of Monessen and the Valley. Where formerly dark green and red were standard house paints, now we have pink, turquoise, yellow and other gay colors brightening the countryside.

Pastels are now suitable to industrial areas like Monessen because Pittsburgh paints resist fumes. Being fume-resistant, they are designed for a specific purpose, and are sun and weather resistant.

Color gives personality to a house. The right color can accentuate good architectural features and hide bad ones. It can shrink a too-tall house or make a small house larger.

The roof and walls are the two major color areas. A light roof makes a house seem taller, a dark one makes it smaller. The same rule holds true for the siding.

If your house is a combination brick, stone and siding, either a matching or contrasting shade may be used for the siding. The matching color provides dramatic architectural sweep. The contrasting color breaks up the lines of the house.

It's up to you and the style of your house which design you use, but color should be used with a purpose.

Decline Cub Ties

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP)—The directors of the Des Moines Demons have turned down another offer to continue their working agreement with the Chicago Cubs, ending an 11-year affiliation. The club has decided to seek a tie-up with another major league club for 1958.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, John Heming, who died seven years ago today, November 2, 1950.
We live today with memories
Of days when you were here.
We miss you still and always will
Throughout each day and year.
At night when all is silent
And sleep forsakes our eyes,
Our thoughts are in that lonely grave
Where our dear loved one lies.
Sadly missed by daughter, Mrs. Amanda Durstine and Children.

In loving memory of our dear brother and uncle, Clyde Heming, who died five years ago today, November 2, 1952.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad the weary way.
For life is not the same to us,
Since you were called away.
Gone from us that smiling face,
Those carefree happy ways,
The heart that won so many friends
In bygone happy days.
Sadly missed by Sister, Mrs. Amanda Durstine and Children.

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, John Frank Stanish, Jr., who died 12 years ago today, November 2, 1945.
We have lost our darling son,
He has bid us all adieu,
He has gone to live in Heaven
And his form is lost to view.
Oh, that dear one, how we loved him,
Oh, how hard to give him up,
But an angel came down for him
And removed him from our group.
Sadly missed by Motner, Dad and Sister

In loving memory of wife, mother, and grandmother, Carmella Mascetta who died ten years ago November 1, 1947
Dear God, wilt thou a message take,
For one who walks the golden way?
She is our own; our very best.
Without her all are empty days.
Whisper that our hearts are with her
In that Kingdom up above.
Tell her that we miss her always,
And we send her all our love.
Dear God, you will know our Mother.
By the beauty of her smile,
Wilt thou say to her we're coming
Home, in just a little while?
Sadly missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.

Portage Business Fire Damage Is Set at $100,000

PORTAGE, Pa. (UP)—One of the biggest fires in the history of this Cambria County community destroyed four business establishments and a house and forced four families to flee Friday night.

No one was injured in the blaze, caused by an explosion of a gas furnace in the John Yacos Real Estate Company on Main Street, according to Fire Chief Alton Bachtell.

The Yacos office, two jewelry stores, a restaurant, a private house and apartments above the businesses were destroyed.

Bachtell set the damage at $100,000.

Forced to flee the blaze were Mrs. Mary Gruse and her two children, who occupied the destroyoedoo homoe, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sikora and Mrs. Sikora's mother, Mrs. Katie Kuchera; Mrs. Margatet Cadwalader and her two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Evans and their two daughters—all occupants of apartments above the commercial establishments.

Destroyed were the buildings housing the Brown Restaurant, Frank Shevock's Jewelry Store, the Evans Jewelry Store and the Yacos real estate firm.

A drug store was damaged.

School Stabbing Incidents Are Probed by Police

BRIDGETON, N. J. (UP) —A Cumberland County judge today considered a grand jury investigation of two inter-racial stabbings involving Bridgeton High School students earlier this week.

Judge Harry Adler said Friday he would give the situation "serious consideration" to find out just what is wrong. He warned that such conduct will not be tolerated and that children are going to school without fear and without interference.

The two stabbings victims, both white, were Kermit Smith, 18, a student at Bridgeton High, and Vincent Hitchner, 24. Neither suffered serious wounds.

Smith was stabbed near the eye Thursday by Louis Baker, 18, a Negro pupil at the school. Hitchner was stabbed in the shoulder Wednesday when he became involved in a quarrel with Horace Colson, 12, also a Negro student at the school.

Travel Restricted

WARSAW, Poland (UP) — The Polish government today announced new restrictions on foreign travel by Polish citizens to help ease the country's economic situation. Sees no Tax Cut

JACKSON, Miss. (UP) — Russell C. Harrington, U.S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, said Friday he saw little hope for a tax cut in 1958 unless a "sizeable surplus" appears. Harrington, who is touring southern cities, said income tax collections for this year are running well ahead of last year's record.

Your Health—

You Can Help Your Doctor Locate Any Trouble with Sinus

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Sinus trouble can be very painful, as anyone who has had it well knows. Yet the very fact that it is painful, often helps a doctor determine just where the basic trouble lies.

Your sensitivity to pain helps greatly in diagnosing the specific area infected.

Now I don't want your diagnosing your own troubles and illnesses, but you can borrow a trick from the doctor and get an indication in what area your sinuses are acting up so that you can tell him about it.

Press your thumbs against both of your cheeks. Use equal force.

If, say, the right cheek registers a dull pain, it might mean there's an infection of the right antrum or cavity. Pain in the left cheek could mean trouble in the left antrum.

Using the same method, apply pressure to your forehead over your eyes and then under the overhang of your eyebrows near your nose. If you notice a tenderness at any of these points, it could mean the frontal sinuses are infected.

This method, of course, isn't sure-fire. It merely narrows the search for the doctor.

He might be able to confirm his diagnosis by using the transillumination method.

In this procedure, he literally "lights up your head" by using a flashlight.

To detect any difference in opacity, he puts a small flashlight into your mouth. If your frontal sinuses are normal, they'll light up with a pinkish glow.

The light makes the pupils of your eyes glow if the maxillary or antra sinuses are empty and transparent, it's likely to be infected and filled with pus.

Of course this method is no help in detecting trouble in the ethmoid cells and sphenoid sinuses. To find any trouble which might be lurking there — and sometimes in the frontal sinuses too — your doctor probably will use X-rays.

But finding the infection is only part of the job. Treating it — that is the real chore!

Question and Answer

T.B: My newborn baby has a flat red birthmark. Will it disappear?

Answer: As a rule, flat red marks disappear as the child grows older. If not, later on they may be skillfully treated with X-ray and radium or carbon dioxide snow.

Documentaries on WQED

Outstanding British documentaries of World War II will be brought to the TV screen when WQED presents a new film series, "They Who Fought," beginning tomorrow.

This 12 week series, presented in cooperation with the British Information Service, will review the history of the war years and will trace the great campaigns of Britain — including those in Europe, Africa and in the Far East.

With the introduction of the series, an interesting experiment gets underway which will give the TV audience an opportunity to view the various films on any one of six successive nights. "We feel that many excellent programs are passed by because viewers are busy on certain nights," Ralph J. Tangney, WQED's program manager, said.

"By scheduling this film series on six successive nights, we hope to offer an ample opportunity to television viewers of this area to see these films and to tell their friends about them," he added.

Scheduled to introduce the series is the film, "The Raider," a 90-minute epic story of the hazards encountered by 21 survivors of a torpedoed merchant ship during World War II. The film first will be telecast at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, and will be repeated on Channel 13 from Monday through Friday next week at 10:30 p. m. as a climax to each day's telecasts. This name schedule will applay for the remaining films which vary in length from 45 to 90 minutes.

Three Shirley Temple Tales Are Scheduled

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The channel swim . .

The first three fairy tales penciled in for Shirley Temple's new NBC - TV series are "Beauty and the Beast," "Rumplestiltskin" and "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," all of them live. The series starting date is Jan. 12.

Mildred Freed Alberg, exec producer of NBC-TV's "Hallmark" series, says there'll be no repeat of "Green Pastures" this year—maybe, next year though. . ."You Know Me, Al," a projected NBC-TV series based on a Ring Lardner character, goes before the cameras in a couple of weeks. Abe Burrows turned out the script for the pilot film.

"The Prince and the Pauper," the Talent Associates spec seen on CBS-TV this week, now is being pitched as a TV series at the ad agencies. . . The rumor mill has it that Ollie Treyz, vice-president in charge of television at ABC, will be named President of ABC-TV sometime this month.

Cyril Ritchard is the first signing for the CBS-TV "Aladd in" spec set for Feb. 21—he'll play a magician.

Nan Fabray and her new hubby bought seven-and-a-half acres of real estate atop a hill in a section of Los Angeles. . . Warner Bros. and Paramount have eyes for Millie Ann Bourne, hostess on ABC-TV's "Do You Trust Your Wife."

June Lockhart cut the film for "The Best of the Saturday Evening Post," a new TV series the William Morris agency is peddling . . . "Arthur Murray Party" is ticketed in for an evening spot on the NBC-TV schedule before December.

"The Pied Piper," the NBC-TV No. 26 spec with Van Johnson, has had its budget upjacked to $625,000—Plans are hatching to show the filmed spec in movie theatres after its TV exposure . . . "Kraft Theatre" will etch its Nov. 13 show on video tape.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover will make one of his rare TV appearances this Sunday on CBS-TV's "Twentieth Century" . . . Barbara Hall, the showgirl who collected $64,000 on "The $64,000 Question," is in the cast of "One Foot in the Door," a Broadway show that opens Dec. 2.

And Robert Q. Lewis has noticed a strange thing about his TV set this season—No matter which way he faces it, it seems to have Western exposure.

$250,000 Damage Award Goes to Springfield Man

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A $250,000 damage award went Friday to the family of a Springfield, Pa., man killed in Jan 1953, while testing a locomotive for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The award, made by a U. S. District Court jury, was the second large one granted in Federal Courts here in as many days. On Thursday the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a $350,000 award to a Trenton, N. J., man for electrical burns he suffered May 1, 1953, while laying a drainage pipe in Levittown.

Friday's award went to the family of Joe G. Irby, 32, a PRR employe who was killed while working on a Westinghouse electric locomotive. Irby's survivors are his widow, Jeannette, 38, of Springfield Twp, two sons and one daughter.

Research Helps Make The Modern Kitchen Even More Efficient

Research by many fact-finding organizations has helped make modern kitchens the most efficient ever known, says the new Fawcett publication, "Today's Home," in its Fall and Winter issue.

Researchers have spent thousands of hours diligently studying the housewife's various work activities and have developed scientific formulas for locating appliances and facilities which enable her to perform routine tasks with maximum speed and minimum steps, the publication says.

"The kitchen is the glamour room in today's home," it declares. "New products, new ways to use kitchen space more efficiently, new ideas about what it should be and how it should work — these factors all help to make today's kitchen an attractive, efficient woman's workshop.

"Not long ago, the usual kitchen equipment—the refrigerator, range, cupboards, counter-top and sink—was so unattractive that owners preferred to keep it behind walls and doors, hidden from sight. Now these appliances can be things of beauty. The kitchen itself has become a bright, colorful, easy-to-clean place which housewives no longer hide from guests. It has come out into the open. And this big change is the biggest news of this and many another year."

The magazine says that "today's kitchen is as much a part of family life as the "family kitchen' of fifty and more years ago. Even small ones with barely enough space for the necessary appliances have open walls leading to the dining room or family room, where youngsters play, watch television, or study, under the mother's supervision."

Water Supply Being Wasted By Homeowners

Will water ever cost as much as milk?

It could, if homeowners don't find some way to curb their wasteful use of this most vital of all natural resources.

Water rates are going up with the increased demands of homeowners and industry in all sections of the country.

Yet 50 per cent of the currently available supply from municipal water systems is being wasted, according to the American Water Works Association.

The waste must be stopped, and the way to do it is by controlling the rate of flow from fixtures, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau explains.

A special valve for this purpose, available through plumbing contractors, varies the stream from a faucet according to pressure changes in the supply line.

The valve has a built-in rubber washer that expands as pressure drops to let more water through, contracts with a pressure increase to restrict the flow. In either case, a steady flow is maintained. Valves are made for various gallons per minute flow rates.

Savings are spectacular. With such a valve, the normal flow rate of 3 or 4 gallons per minute from a lavatory faucet can be cut to 1½ gallons, ample for all normal needs. The flow from kitchen faucets can be cut to 2½ gallons per minute, an adequate supply for sink and food waste disposer.

The customary 9 gallons per minute flowing from a showerhead can be reduced to 4 with a flow control valve, and without limiting the enjoyment of a shower in any way.

Planning on selling your home? Then take a tip from the United States Department of Commerce and fix up your bathroom.

HERE'S HOW . . .

MAKE A ROOM DIVIDER-BOOKCASE

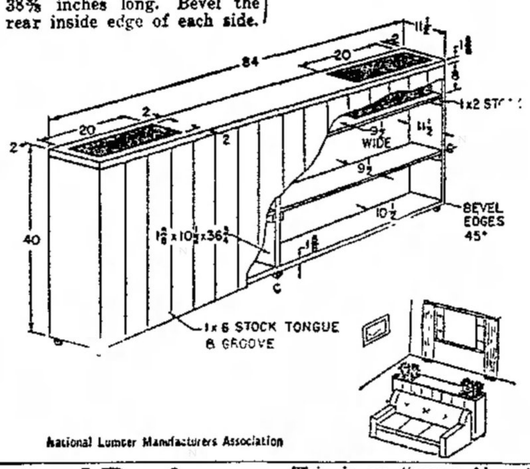
A room divider-bookcase can be readily converted to a bar by the addition of sliding doors.

The top, bottom, and center separator are made of 2 by 12-inch lumber; the shelves 1 by 10's; the sides 1 by 12's; the rear panels 1 by 6-inch tongue and groove lumber; and the cleats 1 by 2-inch lumber.

Cut the pieces to the dimensions shown. The sides are 38⅝ inches long. Bevel the rear inside edge of each side. Bevel the end rear panels to match the beveled edge of the sides.

Assemble the project using glue and 8-penny finishing nails. Casters and the metal plant boxes are then inserted. If the divider is to be used as a bar, allowance has been made for sliding doors.

Sand the project smooth and round all sharp edges.



National Lumber Manufacturers Association

Water Heater Record Broken Last Year

From total sales of 1,319,000 in 1946 to sales of 2,762,100 units in 1956 — this, in belief, is the story of a ten-year gain in sales chalked up by the gas-fired automatic storage water heater industry.

Last year was an all-time record year for manufacturers of gas-fired automatic storage water heaters. Sales for the industry totalled 2,762,100 units.

Sales are down this year, however, with the total for the first seven months standing at 1,538,600 as compared with 1,734,600 for the first seven months of last year.

Nevertheless manufacturers are optimistic for the long pull and look forward to a 3,000,000 year in the not too distant future, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Clogged Roof Gutters Can Be Dangerous

Roof gutters clogged by falling leaves can be a potential danger to a house. If water standing in the gutters freezes, it can act as a dam which may cause water to back up under the edge of the roof and leak into the house.

Two safeguards against this are:

1. Keeping gutters clear of leaves and other debris.

2. Properly applied roofing. Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for homes, call for an extra layer of waterproof material under the shingles at the eaves.

This is an "eaves flashing strip" recommended for us in addition to the usual underlayment, metal drip edge and starter course of shingles, wherever there is danger of freezing temperatures creating ice dams along the eaves. When asphalt shingles are then applied according to specifications, the roof will have a long, trouble-free life.

Open Sidewall Is The Newest Thing

The newest thing in the house is a sidewall with its structure showing. Paul Hayden Kirk, AIA, nationally known Seattle designer of contemporary homes, has extended the pattern of roof beam exposure to the wall posts.

This has been accomplished by bringing roof-decking lumber, in two-by-six-inch dimension, with tongue and groove pattern, down to form the exterior walls.

This new look in home design takes form through installation of two-by-sixes in horizontal lengths on the interior side of the wall posts. Fitted by tongue and groove with a slight "V" joint, a tight wall with smooth surface is formed.

Architect Kirk points out that the solid sidewall of two-inch thickness contains in itself all essential values of structural strength, insulation, safety, and qualities of surface and texture that welcome a great variety of finishes and beauty treatments. Those wishing a more insulated wall could add hemlock or cedar interior paneling over the solid wall.

The rugged appeal of plank, beam and post design is projected from the whole structure to the outside view. The exposed wall posts are four to seven feet apart, united at the top with overhanging roof beams.

The structure of the house is stabilized from ridge to foundation, Kirk emphasizes. He believes that the economy of the design, with its appeal of beauty and efficiency to the contemporary family, will serve to popularize this solid sidewall type of construction.

The Seattle architect has developed his designs with local native woods, Douglas fir, west coast hemlock, and western red cedar, which are available all over the country.

Wright Home Has Plenty of Wood

A house designed by the celebrated architect, Frank Lloyd Wright, for one of his sons in a Washington, D. C., suburb, features wood inside and out.

Wherever wood siding is used on the exterior of the house, wood paneling appears on the inside, in keeping with the Wright "monomaterial" system.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association points out that for every dollar saved in school construction costs, an additional 35 cents is saved in interest charges over a 15-year period. Modern wood schools stretch the school tax dollar, the association says.

In a recent publication, the Department of Commerce pointed out that "The quality of housing is best revealed by its physical characteristics such as structural condition and plumbing facilities.
